"International Nurses' Day 2022 will demand 'real investment' in nursing. The need for "real investment" to be made into the nursing workforce around the world will be the call to action from this year's International Nurses' Day"

The COVID-19 has exposed weaknesses caused by underinvestment in health systems around the world. The theme for International Nurses Day 2022 demonstrates the need to invest in nursing, to build a resilient, highly qualified nursing workforce and to protect nurses' rights in order to transform health systems to meet the needs of individuals and communities now and into the future.

Nurses have suffered tremendously throughout the pandemic. They have been exposed to the virus, faced attacks from the public, suffered from extreme workloads, and continue to be underpaid and undervalued.

International Nurses Day for 2022 will continue to promote nursing work and fight for nurses' rights to a safe working environment, decent wages and full participation in decision-making.
